When a man
does not keep pace
with his companion, perhaps it is because he hears
a different drummer.
Let him step to the music
which he hears,
however measured or far away.

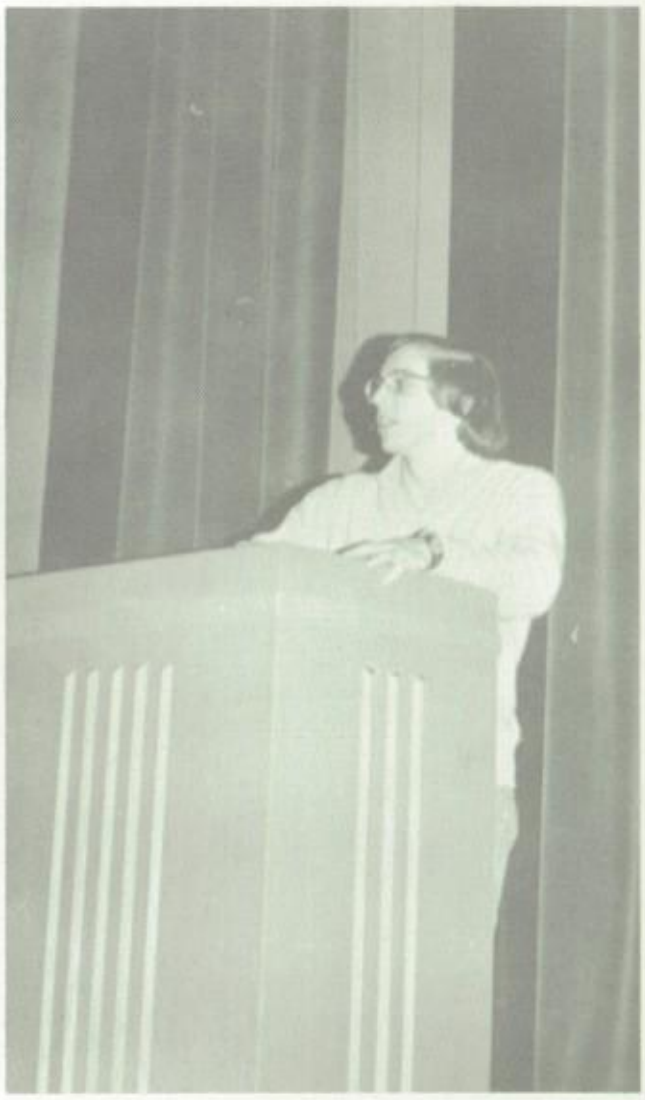
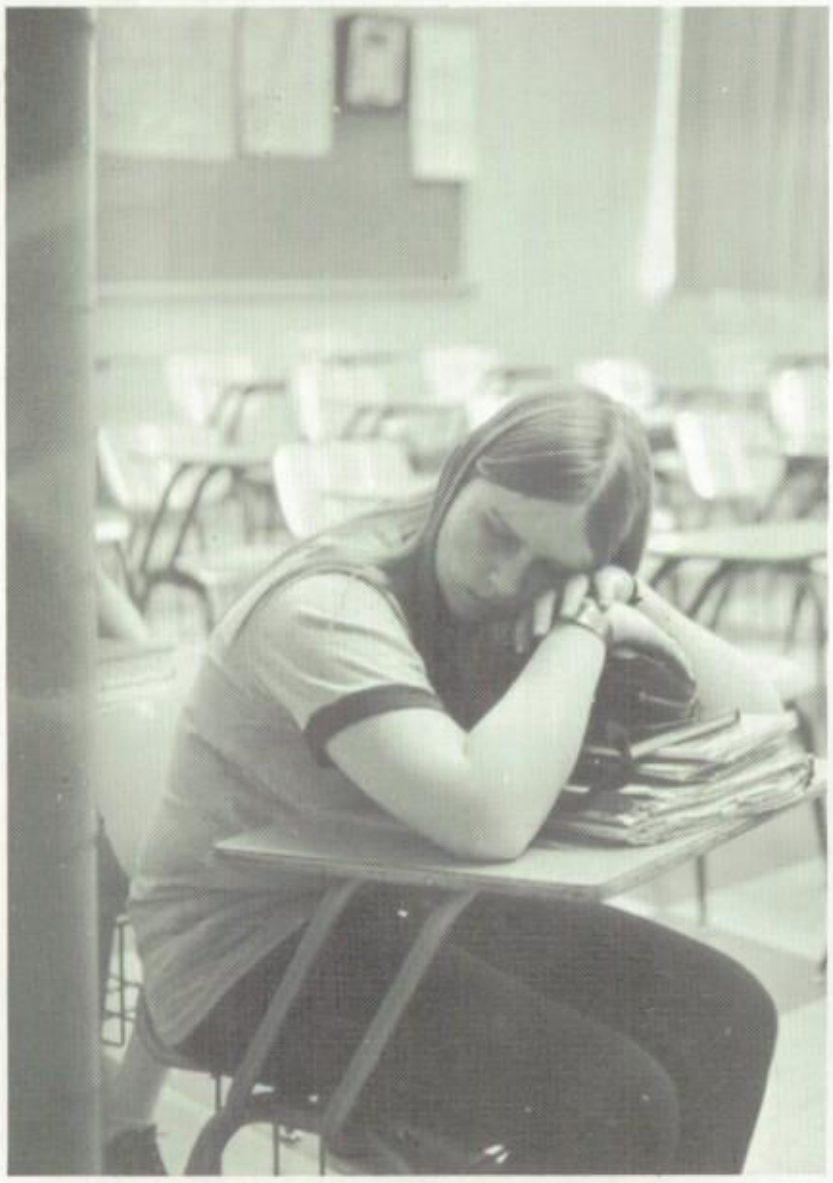
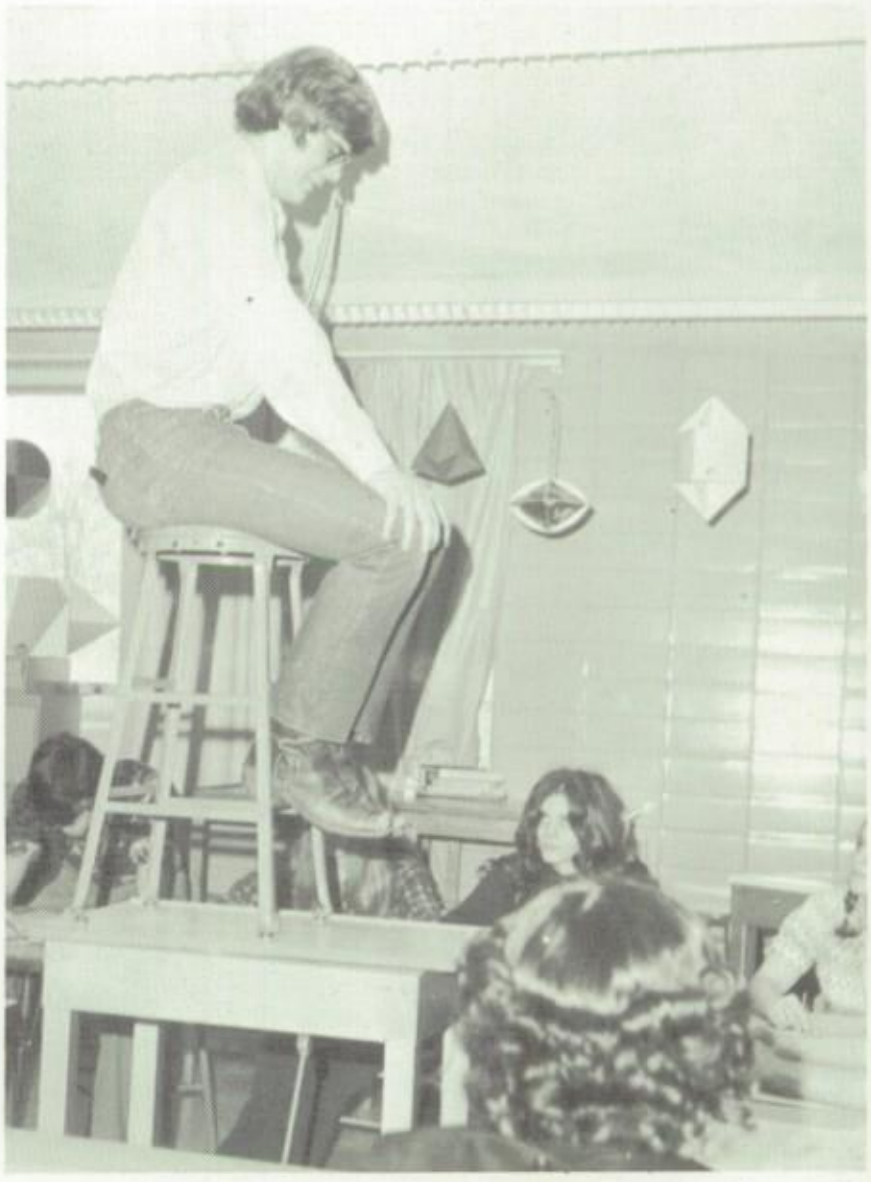
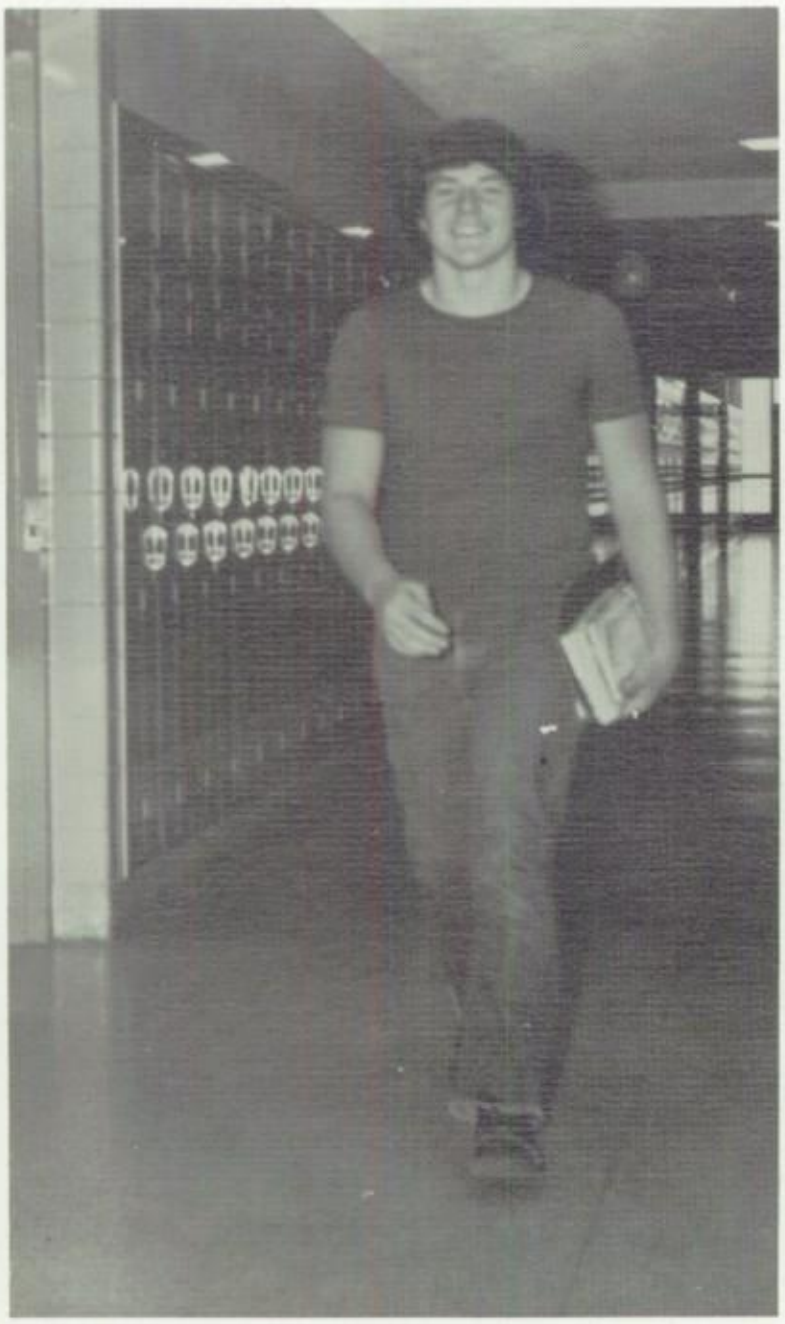
Henry David Thoreau

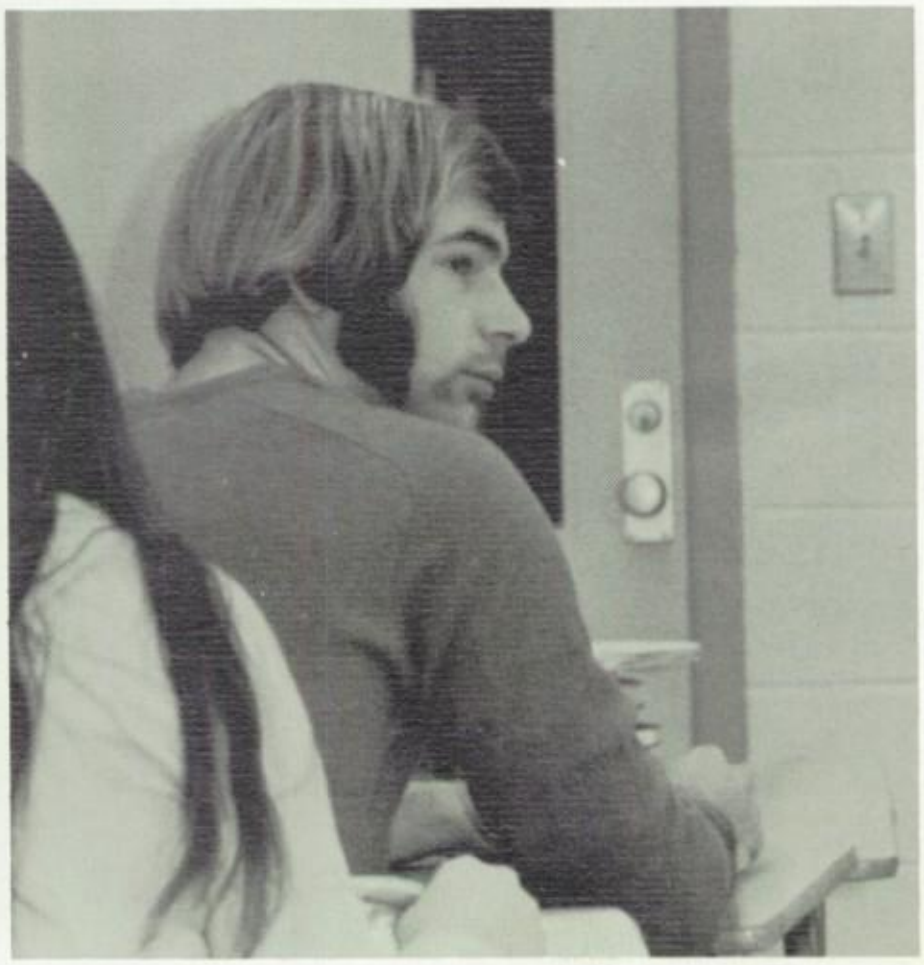




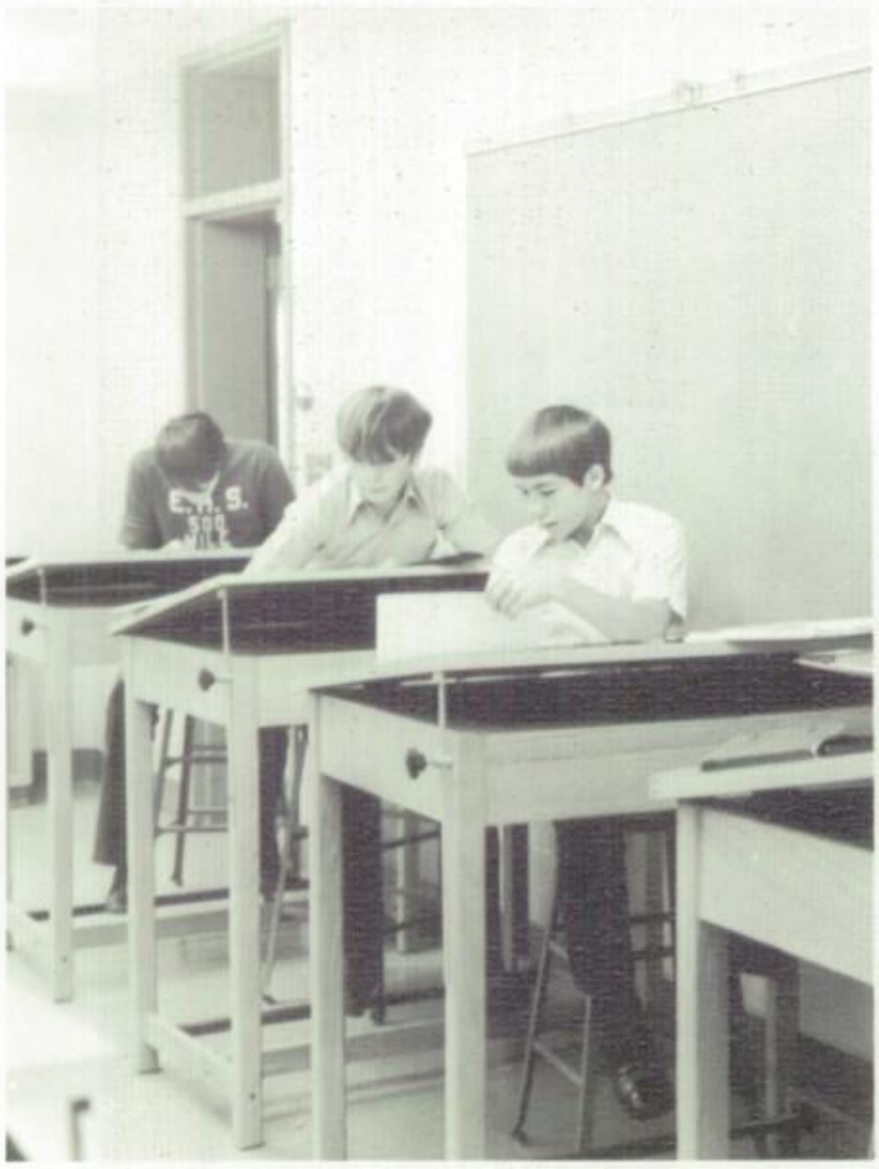


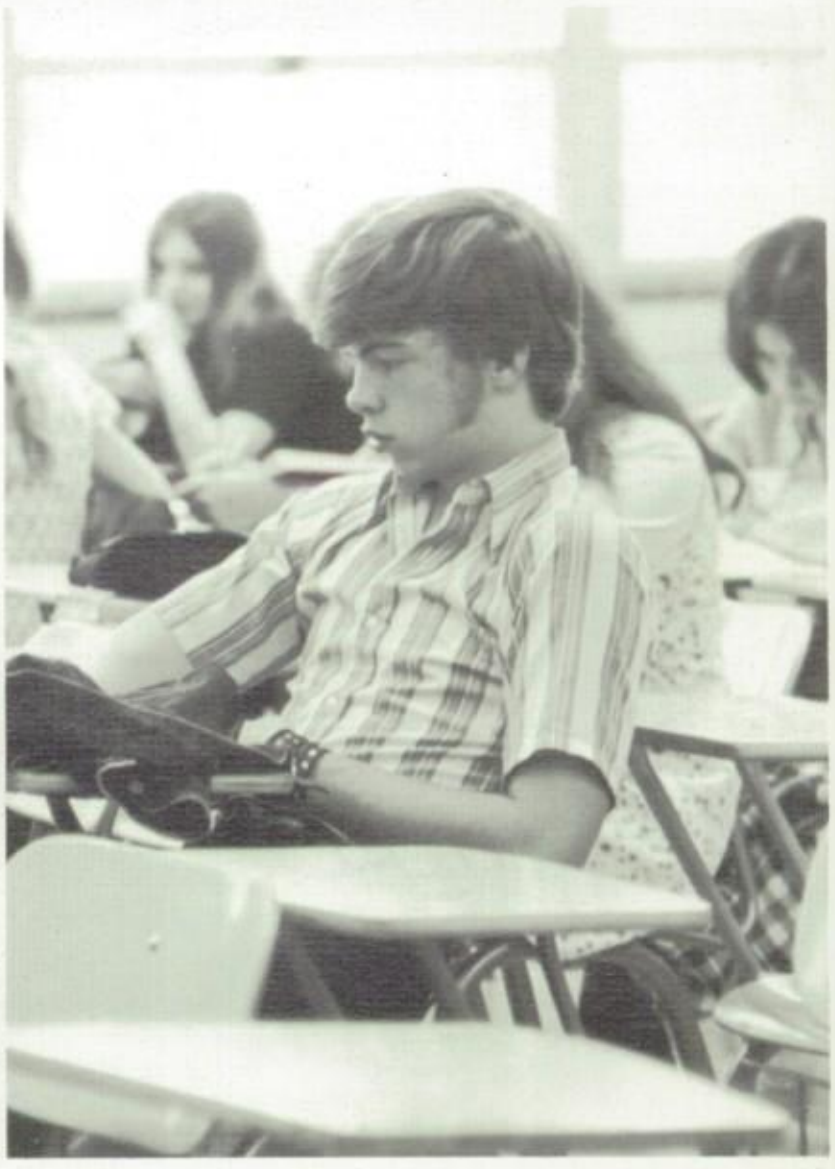


Becoming aware of yourself as an individual is a long, difficult process. In high school this often involves sitting through boring classes, and also interesting and exciting ones. It involves, hopefully, finding that the goal of a true education is the freedom to be yourself.



Questioning, thinking, and planning is a part of becoming aware of the feelings and attitudes of others and examining your own ideas about life and yourself.





Finally, for many, comes the realization that each person is truly an individual; unique and changing all the time.

At this time I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to all of the people who helped make this year's annual a success. The merchants for their support and the staff for their time and effort deserve a very special thanks.

Thank you,

Kathy Hoyneat

Business Manager

As editor of the 1973 AQUILA there are many people I would like to thank for helping to make this year's AQUILA a success. The advertisers, students, faculty and staff deserve credit for their support and co-operation. A special thanks goes to:

Mr. Gerke, for his advice and willingness to let us try new ideas despite his occasional doubts about our sanity.

Karen Burns, Assistant Editor and Assistant Business Manager, who was a great help all through the year, from the early planning stages of the book to the final deadline.

Kathy Wozniak, Business Manager, who was responsible for the advertising and sales of the yearbook. Her help on other phases of the book was also appreciated.

Tom Wills and Mike Samson, Student Photographers. Tom deserves special credit for TRYING to be patient with our constant demands for more pictures!

The AQUILA staff, for their interest, co-operation and willingness to work throughout the year.

Finally, I sincerely hope that next year's editor will have as many unique and rewarding experiences as I have had this year.

Sincerely,

Valerie Lattanza

The ability to express one's true feelings in the social, academic and personal aspects of high school life is the beginning of individualism. However, the chance to become an individual does not end with high school but can continue until it is a way of life.
